

Chychy Smith, DrPH, MPH, MCHES® (she/her) is a dedicated advocate for improving healthcare access for all communities. She is the Director of the Office of Health Disparities Elimination at the Arkansas Department of Health, overseeing policy and programming to reduce health disparities across Arkansas communities.

Dr. Smith holds a doctorate and master's degree in public health and is a master-certified health education specialist. Driven by a commitment to better health outcomes for everyone, she advances solutions to promote healthcare accessibility and positive community change through her research, advocacy, and leadership.