

Tamika Kelley is an Executive Vice President of Clinical Operations for Cedar Health Research. With over 24 years of experience, Tamika has dedicated herself to community health while honing her leadership acumen across pharmaceutical, biotech and CRO organizations. Tamika was an HBA 2024 Luminary and a McKinsey 2024 Black Executive Leadership academy graduate. From successful product (infectious disease, rare disease, oncology) launches, strategic alliance partnerships, to driving operational efficiencies and building significant pipeline growth. Her passion for servant leadership, building healthy communities and leveraging data-driven solutions for process improvement and community outreach has fueled her study of health equity to realize improvements of health outcomes in underserved communities.

Kind regards,
TK